A WISE FATHER.

In one of the leading towns of central Iowa there resides a wealthy banker whose eldest daughter has but recently become engagedto be married. As would be expected from the position of her family, the young lady has had the benefit of the best social and intellectual advantages at home besides having been a student at Vassar for some time, and travelled considerably; from all which she has attained quite an unusual degree of culture for a lady of only twenty years.

To an ordinary observer it would seem that her training had been all that could be desired; but her father thought otherwise. When he found that she had decided to take upon herself the duties of wifehood he knowing how greatly the happiness of families is affected by the housewifery qualities of the woman at the head, decreed that the marriage should be delayed until she had made herself thoroughly familiar with the duties of a housekeeper.

To be thorough, he knew required more than mere theoretical knowledge, so with thoughtfulness he was careful to provide the means whereby the practical part of all instruction received could be fully learned; and to this end the mother was requested to retire into the background for a season while the daughter should assume the responsibilities of housekeeper. The mother consented, and the young lady undertook the duties of her novel position with a will to do her very best. Several months have now elapsed, yet her interest is never known to flag, although her position is no sinecure, as she is obliged to be very careful and exceedingly economical, she begins ashamed without the presence of guests from abroad; but inspired by the ambition to acquit herself creditably in the present, she will as by the sweet hope of the future, when she shall preside over a home of her very own, her zeal and enthusiasm increases from day to day as experience adds to her proficiency.

In order that her work may be systematic, she is allowed a certain amount of money each month with which to supply the table, and as a special inducement to exercise of economy, all that can be saved therefrom is placed to her private account for individual use. The upon bills allowable being by no means large, she is obliged to exercise care in its expenditure; therefore the smallest details are studied, and not a dish makes appearance upon the table without the cost having been fully estimated previous to its ordering. In this manner she is learning many things that may be of great value to the future.

The father often accompanies her to market and instructs her in the selection of vegetables, the cutting of meats, etc., showing such as are suitable for different purposes and how to avoid wasteful and unwholesome purchases.

Does not this little sketch contain a valuable suggestion for other parents? This young lady will graduate in less than one year, at an expenditure of probably one-half the actual money required in the school-room, knowing that will contribute a thousand fold more to the happiness of those depending upon her in the future than any amount of school training could possibly do; yet how few think to give their daughters a similar preparation for the home cares and home duties to enter to form a part of every woman's life. Were parents more thoughtful in this respect, the burdens of young wives would be greatly lessened, while the amount of money which would be saved to young husbands would oftentimes be sufficient to lay the foundation for great wealth. Thought, is worthy of consideration, the paring of all those who may hold in their hands the shaping of a young girl's future.

SMARTLIES FROM SEED.

Shortly after blooming this summer, a white Amaryllis gave indications of seed-pods; curious to know if the plant would perfect seed, they were allowed to grow and soon became so large that the stalk was unable to support the weight. One, after another was taken off until but one pod remained.

This continued to grow until it was as large as a pear and about the same shape. The stalk was carefully staked up, that it might not break under the weight, and early one walked with interest to see what would come of this curious growth. One morning after a heavy rain the pod was found to be broken open and two seeds lay upon the ground and several others remained in their places. The following day all had fallen, greatly to the disappointment of the owner.

The seeds were as large as a horse-chestnut and of the same shape. In color they were of a pale green, which faded to a grayish tint. Supposing the pod to have been broken by the storm before the seeds had ripened, they were taken into the house as curiosities and laid away; for several days they remained dormant, but finally opening one of the seeds was discovered to have sprouted, greatly to the surprise of my friend, who immediately conceived hopes of the rest. She distributed the seeds at once among her friends, and two of them were given to me.

When I received them one had a sprout two inches long, while the other was beginning to swell.

I planted them at once in rich soil, leaving the pod about half exposed to the sun. This was two weeks ago, and there is a tiny green leaf about an inch long growing from each seed.

The bulb which produced these seeds threw up a flower-stalk with seven buds. The blossoms were very large and pure white, with a line of pink upon each one.—Floral Cabinet.

Experience shows that, in respect to the well-known facility of preserving posts and wood which are partly imbedded in the earth by charring and coating with tar, complete effectiveness is insured only when both operations are employed. Should the posts only be charred, without the subsequent treatment with tar, the charcoal formation on the surface can only act as an absorber of the moisture, and, if anything, the decay is only hastened. It is found that, by applying a coating of tar without previous charring, the tar can only form a coating about the wood, but will not penetrate to the depth which the absorbing property of a charcoaled surface will do it. Experiments prove that wood which is exposed to the action of water, or let into the ground, should first be subjected to charring, and then, before it has entirely cooled, be treated with tar until the wood is impregnated in the most thorough manner. By proceeding in this manner, the acetic acid and oils contained in the tar are evaporated by the heat, and only the resin left behind, which penetrates the pores of the wood, and forms an air-tight and water-proof envelope. It is found important that the posts be impregnated some feet above the line of exposure, as it is there that the action of decay affects the wood first.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

During the last year the Gospel was preached in a thousand cities and towns in China where it had not previously been heard.

The Protestant movement in France has resulted recently in the conversion of three Catholic priests.

A church and charge guild has been organized in Kingsland, the purpose of which is to raise one—moral, intellectual and artistic—of the drama. Its members are both from the church and stage; several clergymen have joined the association.

A party of twelve Carmelite nuns, whom the people of Guatemala had grown tired of and driven away, have recently established themselves in a recent cottage in Riverside Avenue, Yonkers, N. Y.

A New Haven clergyman thinks the tendency of evangelists is to break up pastorates, because since Moody and Sankey were there eighteen months ago.

The next Methodist Social Union is to meet with the Church at Secondapps, Dorchester. A large delegation from the surrounding churches is expected.

The foundation for the new Methodist church at Gorham is rapidly going up, and the building will be pushed forward as fast as possible.

The Y. M. C. A., of Portland, observed the week of prayer, according to the programme of the Geneva Conference, in their hall on Congress street. A good interest prevailed.

The Farmington Chronicle reports a gracious revival interest at Beals Ridge. Several have already been converted, and a deep conviction for sin pervades the community.

Rev. J. O. Peck, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., has several lecture engagements in Maine this winter. He lectures in Pine St., Portland, Skowhegan, Farmington, Augusta, Biddeford and Saco.

The Portland Methodist Preachers' Meeting discussed the subject of extending the term of ministerial service in the Church the coming three years. The paper was presented by I. Lane, and the disciples were strongly against a further extension.

Five persons were received into the Methodist church at Winthrop last Sabbath by Rev. D. Church, and three were baptized. Preaching at St. Alban was given up to hold up his quarterly meeting. Evangelist E. A. Whitney is holding a series of revival meetings in Winthrop.

Rev. A. W. C. Anderson is having prosperity all over his charge at Caribou and Fort Fairfield. At the latter point they are moving towards a new church, and expect to dedicate it before Conference.

Zion's Herald says of Maine M. E. churches: A good brother at Woodford's had offered to give one thousand dollars toward a new church at that place. If others will do as well a new church will be forthcoming, and Woodford's will be one of our best appointments. Rev. Mr. Berry, the pastor, is doing grandly, and is winning his way much for people, but he must have a new church.

The Zion's Advocate says of Maine Baptist churches: Rev. S. L. B. Chase has resigned the pastorate of the Bath street Baptist church in Bath, the resignation to take effect at the close of December. The membership of the church has been greatly increased during his ministrate.

By Rev. F. H. Peckham, J. W. Carr and J. V. Tabor, acting as council for the Houlton Q. M., a Free will Baptist church was organized on Oct. 26, at Forest City, a thriving village at the outlet of Grand Lake, in Baring Plantation, on the eastern boundary of Maine, which has been built up mostly within the last ten years. By the erection of that place of one of the Shaw Brothers' large tanneries.

Joe Pentz took a rifle to his wedding at Mark's Gap, Texas. The sexton tried to persuade him to leave it at the door on entering the church, but he persisted in carrying it across his shoulder as he walked with the bride up the aisle to the altar rail. His explanation was that a rival had threatened to kill him on this occasion, and he meant to be prepared for defence.

Miss Rye, a noble Englishwoman, has just made her thirty-second voyage across the Atlantic with a cargo of "waifs," or street waifs—girls collected from the highways of London. These girls are taken to Canada and placed in responsable families, and in almost every instance have obtained comfortable homes and kind-hearted friends. The work has been carried on for about ten years.

At St. Petersburg the longest has nineteen and the shortest five hours. At Finland the longest has twenty-one and a half hours. At Wonderbus, in Norway, the day lasts from the 21st of May to the 23d of July, the sun not getting below the horizon during the whole time, but skimming along very close to it in the north. At Spitzbergen the longest day lasts three months and a half.

Census-day will be June 1st, 1880. On that date about twenty thousand enumerators will commence their labors—those in the cities being required to complete their work in two weeks, and in others will be allowed the whole month of June. Persons alive on the 1st of June, but dying before the enumerator reaches them, will be counted in the census; births subsequent to the 1st of June will not be counted. Special agents will be employed to collect statistics relating to fisheries, mining, manufacturing, agricultural and various other departments of trade and industry.

Many of the students of the Chinese mission at Hartford are entering the colleges and polytechnic schools of New England and the Middle States this autumn. The Conspiracy.

Another day has added to the evidence that the desperate political gamesters at Augusta have determined to consummate the threatened outrage unless absolutely compelled to abandon it by some power which they dare not defy. There is no longer much attempt at concealment of the design and even the methods by which it is proposed to accomplish the monstrous fraud are more or less freely announced. Councillor John B. Foster had a letter in last night's Commercial intended to explain and justify his opinions as previously given in an interview; but his latest statements is so utterly devoid of sense that the Commercial was evidently ashamed to republish it by command and we shall waste no words upon it. When Councillor John B. Foster alleges that it would be dangerous to permit the Republican Senators and Representatives-elect of this State to examine the returns of their election lest they should first prove thieves and then forge false entries upon town records, while he asserts that these documents can only be safe in the immediate hands of the Hon. John B. Foster and his coalition associates, the people know just exactly what to think of it, and a great many of them are just now saying it aloud.

The intention to defraud the Republican is equally apparent in the talk of Governor Garcelon just after a "private conference" with Pillsbury as quoted by us elsewhere from the N. Y. Herald. There not an honest tone to his talk from beginning to end. His statement of the duties of the Governor and Council shows the intention to usurp powers nowhere conferred upon them, and his declaration that they can take cognizance of allegations of fraud in the elections, shows that he is acting in concert with the Globe scavengers who have filled columns with false and worthless accusations. It is most astonishing, however, to hear a Governor of a State boasting of his intention to disfranchise the people of a city adjoining his own residence upon a technicality never before raised. The truth is that the warrant for the Auburn election was posted in full accordance with the letter of the law but it is had not, been Governor Garcelon and Council can find nowhere any authority for going behind the returns to inquire and decide whether the preliminary forms were all complied with at elections. The "interview" shows not only that Governor Garcelon is aware of the pretexts upon which it is proposed to "count out" a Republican majority of seven Senators and nearly thirty Representatives, but that he approves and indorses the filmsiest of those pretexts.

Another evidence of the settled purpose of the conspirators is the sudden change of front by the Bangor Commercial. That sheet has fought shy and tried to be non-committal on the subject of the stealing of the State, but last evening it swung out boldly in defence of the action of the conspirators. Mark the sudden change! In a letter from Augusta Thursday the Commercial editor said:

> I have made diligent inquiry among Republicans and Democrats alike, simply with a view to getting at the truth, and find an almost unanimous assertion that it has generally been the custom to allow such inspection. Gov. Garcelon, it is understood, informed Mr. Dingley's committee of visiting statesmen that they should have the customary right to examine the returns, but the members of the Council, or a majority of them, are opposed to the Governor's idea.

In contrast with the above expression of Thursday the Commercial editor in Friday's issue championed the conspirators in a long article in which he says:

> Now it seems to us that there is a section of the Revised Statutes which has been overlooked during the somewhat exciting days of the past week, and which makes it perfectly clear that the Council are right, and that the Hon. John B. Foster, who has been singled out by the Republican press for a round measure of abuse, is justified in declaring that "no person under the heavens has a legal right to see or handle the returns" which have been committed to the Governor and Council, and of which, under their official oaths, they are the custodians at present.

The word has evidently been passed along the line that the "counting out" is determined on as a "party measure" and the organs are piping up in its support regardless of their recent protestations. The discovery promulgated by the Commercial editor is about as absurd as Councillor Foster's arguments. That editor cites the statute providing that a separate statement of the votes shall be sent by each town clerk to the Secretary of State "for the examination of the public" and argues that ecause so many other returns is unnecessary. That is simply childish, as the examination of those statements would give no information as to whether the official returns are in proper form, duly attested and free from all defects that would enable such men as Governor Garcelon and Councillman Foster to throw them out.

But beyond all these arguments there is the plain fact that there can be no honest reason for excluding all Republicans from examination of the returns. We repeat our belief that the returns bore such evidence of fraudulent manipulation that there was a guilty fear to exhibit them, and the adjournment of the Council over to Friday, while the members remained and kept at work in secret day and night at the State House, as we are informed, tends to confirm the suspicion that an effort is being made to remove the traces of the conspiracy in case of being compelled to exhibit the returns.

The indignation of the honest people of Maine is growing hotter hour by hour as the shameful plot unfolds.

DRAGGED AT EXPOSURE.

For some time past the big and little organs and allies of the fusion conspirators for the stealing of the State Government, have united in heaping epithet and abuse upon the Editor of THE WHIG AND COURIER because he has sought to arouse the public to a realization of the villanous work in progress at Augusta. The local fusion organs and the correspondents of sympathizing sheets abroad have tried hard to convince the public that nothing wrong was intended, and since last Monday they have teemed with affected ridicule of "Boutelle's Scare," "Boutelle's Panic," "Boutelle's Sensation", etc., etc., until Pillsbury's sheet in its last issue contained twenty or thirty malicious allusions to the same name.

Now we regard the abuse of such organs of evil as the highest compliment they could give us, and the Editor of THE WHIG AND COURIER, in the light of what has already transpired, is quite willing to assume full responsibility for waking the public of a monstrous scheme for overthrowing the results of the late election, by the fraudulent manipulation of the returns at Augusta.

If any man now doubts the existence of that design we do not know whom to find him is any party. The intent to "count out" the Republican majorities is plainly avowed in effect by the whole crowd from the Governor down, and leading Democrats and fusionists do not hesitate to tell how they expect to do it.

There is reason to believe that if it had not been for the public attention aroused the dead would have been accomplished last Monday, and the strongest protection there is now against the success of the villany is in the fastening of the gaze of the people of Maine upon the transactions at Augusta.

OUR DICTATORS.

KING GARCELON AND PRIME MINISTER FOSTER.

[Special Cor. Boston Journal.]

AUGUSTA, Maine, Nov. 20. Governor Garcelon in the public reading room of the Augusta House, arose in his wrathful dignity last evening, and asserted that no man, whether interested or otherwise, had any right to see the official returns. If opened to the public, "the rabble," as he said he styled the law-abiding people of Maine, they might mutilate or abstract them, and the only safety was in withholding them from all parties. The Executive has stiffened up wonderfully, and there is no possibility of Republicans getting their rights but by compulsory process. Supplication and entreaty have failed.

Councillor Foster broke faith with Senator-elect Harris yesterday, and to soften the thing to-day told him that personally he would be glad to show him the returns for his county, and although he decided that he had any legal right to see returns he would, as a personal favor, give him an opportunity to see them for his county if he could prevail upon the other members of the Council to agree to it. Senator Harris accompanied him to the State House, and after waiting some time was very suavely informed by Foster that the other members objected, and he could not do it. This cheap attempt of Foster to help within the good graces of personal friends has been characteristic throughout, and is intended to keep almost sweet socially at his house, where his society friends are largely Republicans. Republicans who hung their hopes on the political integrity and fair dealing of the Fendoscot Councillor have greatly modified their views.

The arrest of James Daly, the editor of the Connaught Telegraph, and of Michael Davitt and James Bryce Killen at Dublin is announced by the cable, and appears to have produced high excitement in both England and Ireland. Meetings have been called in Dublin and London to denounce these arrests and much bitter feeling has been evinced. Meanwhile it is said that seventeen more warrants have been issued for the apprehension of other persons charged with seditious conduct and that the list includes the names of several clergymen. The Home Rule Executive Committee had a meeting yesterday in London, with Mr. O'Connor Power as president, at which it was resolved to call upon Irishmen throughout Great Britain to establish local defence committees to collect funds to defend the prisoners and to secure for them a fair trial. The situation is undoubtedly serious, and may easily become very much worse than it is.—N. Y. Post.

The disaster on Lake Ontario is the most terrible that has occurred on the inland seas for years. Later reports show the loss of life to have been greater than at first reported, thirty-one people, including three women and a girl, having gone down with the lost craft. The disaster seems to have been due to those perils of navigation at this season, against which no prudence nor foresight can guard. A furious gale and a blinding snow-storm, in which all bearings were lost, suddenly overtook the Seymour, and from that hour the fate of the craft in tow, with those on board, seems to have been inevitable.

The Republicans of Boston have nominated Solomon B. Stebbens for Mayor and Newton Talbot for Street Commissioner, and referred the rest of the ticket to nominating committees of twenty-five. The Democrats have nominated Frederick O. Prince for Mayor, and appointed committees to report candidates for Street Commissioner, Aldermen and School Committee.

Whatever the Maine Democrats decide to do with their scheme for stealing the State Government, it should be recorded that not a Democratic newspaper in the land has had the courage to say a word against it. Many of them have chuckled over it and favored it in an indirect way, and one solemn genius has remarked that the expression of any opinion would be a meddlesome interference in the business of the Maine Democrats. The party press which has not a word to say against bulldozing and murder in the interest of the Democratic party in the South, is equally silent when stealing in the interest of the same party is proposed in the North.—N. Y. Tribune.

There appears to be something in the air about our colleges just at present that breeds not all discontent and rowdyism. Only a few days ago the students from Harvard attended a theatrical performance in this city, where they so shamefully treated a lady on the stage that the actor playing opposite to her fairly appealed for mercy. Now we hear that the football team from this same institution received the most transparent reception from the Yale men, who, according to the published accounts, did their best to disable their opponents. At Dartmouth the Senior class, after entering into a fair agreement with the Chandler Scientific Department relative to the election of officers, have deliberately manufactured the nominees, and consequently the latter section have withdrawn from all connection with the disreputable affair. The College at Middlebury, Vt., is not quite so bad, but the students have withdrawn in a body, vowing to never vote on the question of introducing the Greek letter societies into the institution. Nearly every week the columns of the newspapers are liberally occupied by reports of rowdy proceedings in some of our educational institutions, and it appears to be about time that a department of "Gentlemanly Deportment" were added to the regular College curriculum.—Boston Traveller.

PILLSBURY AND GARCELON.

A special correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writes to that paper the following report of a visit to Pillsbury's office, where that conspirator had just time to declare he had not seen the Governor or Council for weeks when Governor Garcelon dropped in for a "private conference." The report, which quotes the Governor's remarks, gives a very clear notion of the remarkable views entertained by that official. Here it is:

GOVERNOR GARCELON'S COMMENTS.

Off through the blinding snow again and over the rough pavement, the next stop was at the office of the Maine Standard, where Mr. E. F. Pillsbury, chairman of the Democratic State Committee and the reputed chief of the conspirators, was found. This gentleman profited not after ignorance of the rumored frauds or the attempt to manipulate the returns, adding vehemently that he had not spoken to the Governor or any of the Council for several weeks. Just at this point Governor Garcelon entered, and as a private conference was evidently desired I withdrew. Meeting the Governor soon afterward I asked him directly what the policy of the Executive Council would be. He replied that the returns would be counted according to law, independently of any consideration of the politics of the candidates or the final result. "and I might add," he continued, "without regard to the presence of a large body of Republican politicians."

"What are the duties of the Governor and Council in such matters under the law?"

"Their duty, as we have been advised by the best legal talent, is to declare the result of the election and to issue certificates to those who have been elected, according to the forms and practices so clearly defined by the Constitution and the Statutes. If we find that an election has been vitiated by public and well proven fraudulent practices or by a failure to comply with all the regulations made and provided, we must report the facts to the Legislature.

CASES IN POINT.

"For instance, there is complaint made in Auburn that the warrant for the election, which by express statute that constitutional provision should be posted at least seven days before election day, was not posted until one day later. Another petition is that on election day no name could be added to the voting list in towns or cities having a population of over one thousand persons. This was violated in Auburn, as we are told, in two instances at least. If these charges of informality are proven beyond doubt, I can see no escape for the Governor and Council from the obligation of their oaths to enforce all the laws strictly."

"What do you think of the motive of the Republicans?"

"I think, to put it mildly, that they are very questionable. Their presence at the State House was either an open confession of their fears that some of their tricks would be exposed, or it betrays the purpose of intimidation. It also meant to the people of the State and the country that they had come to regard the Governor and his Council in the light of unscrupulous thieves."

"Did what did they base their fears of foul play?"

"I cannot conceive. There were some stories printed in several papers, which I have not read, about frauds and an intention to subvert the popular will. Now, how could the Council decide what course to follow when they had not held a meeting? How could I, for instance, manipulate returns when, in fact, I have never seen a single page of the record? I tell you, sir, it is the merest bosh—a sensation gotten up by unscrupulous politicians."

"Then you do not anticipate any change in the already declared result?"

"That I cannot tell. I will never consider a man's politics when I come to pass on the vote rendered for him. I want to see that the vote for each legally and honestly recorded. The returns will be counted according to law, no matter who are to suffer, be they Democrats, Greenbackers or Republicans. Our Republican friends, I think, have allowed people to hold elections and send in the returns just as they pleased, and they are now scared because there is a prospect that the respect for legal forms which they allowed to almost die out is to be revived."

THE APPEAL TO THE COURT.

Hon. Austin Harris, Senator-elect, from Washington County, and Mr. Baker, of counsel, were engaged yesterday in completing the papers in the application to Chief Justice Appleton for proceedings to vindicate the right of parties interested to examine the election returns. The papers in the case were laid before the Chief Justice and we understand that order of notice was issued for a hearing at Augusta early next week in presence of the full court. Mr. Baker left on the train last evening for Augusta and the nature of the petition and place and date of hearing will probably be announced to the public at the time of serving the notice.

ANOTHER CONTRADICTION.

Here is another emphatic contradiction of one of the Pillsbury-Globe "fraud" charges concocted to help cover the fusion devilry at Augusta:

STETSON, Nov. 18, 1879.

I, Eben Jenkins, of Stetson, upon my oath depose and say that the statements made by James Randall and his wife, Mary Randal, purporting to be signed and sworn to October 13, 1879, and published in the Bangor Daily Commercial, November 12th, 1879, are false and an unmitigated lie.

THE MISSISSIPPI ELECTION.

A private letter from Aberdeen, Miss., to a Holyoke manufacturer affords an insight into Democratic methods in that State at the recent election:

"Well, I must talk politics again. When I came from the woods on the evening of election we met numbers of freedmen who were not permitted to vote. The election was a mere farce. The Democrats, by armed force, seized two of the heaviest Republican boxes (as it is at present, the Independent party,) in the county, and they were not counted. They also stole the poll book at another, so there was no voting done. They now openly boast that they will rule the country in spite of the d—d Yankees. This is not the language of the rabble, but of men that boast of their superiority. I do not know what kind of a government we will have if they are permitted to go on in this way. The negroes are very much disheartened, and the least encouragement from the white man would make them run to the polls. I, good man, manacon. But this would not do, as they would afterward be disenfranchised like one. The Democratic party is bended together here in the nature of a conspiracy to deprive the negro of his rights under the constitutional amendments. The Government fired them, and did it as it was thought, and I think they are entitled to protection. The capitalists of the East have some interest in the cotton culture of the South, but if the negroes are not given justice they will leave the cotton culture of the South to grow up in weeds. White labor cannot cultivate those prairies like the negroes. It strikes me that the white Republicans of the South are entitled to a little consideration at the hands of the present Administration. I am greatly encouraged from the prompt and vigorous attitude of the President. He no doubt knows well, but he did not know the depth of iniquitousness of these people. I was very much elevated at the news from the North this evening, and was glad that Blaine's speech in Boston was delivered. It was a splendid thing, and it will do its work. It was just what is wanted at the time, no matter what the Republicans may think. If the Government will just give us such protection as will ensure a fair election and a fair count, we will have the world beat out of sight. That is all we need. It only is to be understood that the laws will be enforced, and all will be well.

THE DEMOCRACY

Mark the Shameful Outrage.

While Democrats are Accorded the Fullest Scrutiny!

REPUBLICAN REQUESTS CONTEMPTUOUSLY IGNORED AND REJECTED!

AN APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT!

Shameful Partisan Action of the Governor and Council.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 21. The Advisory Committee of the Republican party on the counting out" scheme have now all repaired to their homes, in view of the fact that the case for the present is transferred to the Supreme Judicial Court. The committee desire to have it stated, however, as a fact of large importance in their judgment that not one member of the Republican party has been permitted to see the election returns since the day of election. Candidates' counsel, Senators elect Representatives elect and County officers of the Republican party have all in turn applied and all in turn been refused.

Democrats Allowed Free Access to the Returns

On the other side a Democratic Governor, a Democratic Council, Democratic lawyers and Democratic town officers have all been permitted to examine the returns and one member of the Advisory Committee says they can prove that returns from Democratic towns have been undergoing correction for the past six weeks and that in the case of one particular town well known to the committee the returns were corrected as lately as the early part of this week and the corrected return sworn to as having been made in open town meeting September 8th.

The First Outrage of Its Kind.

The committee state as the result of their examination that for the first time in the history of Maine the privilege of inspecting the returns has been confined exclusively to the members of one party and in this case the members of the defeated party.

Calling the Full Court to Consider the Case

Judge Libbey and Judge Danforth of this county received to day a telegraphic inquiry from Chief Justice Appleton whether they deemed it expedient to assemble the entire Supreme Judicial Court in this city on Monday to determine the extent of its jurisdiction in the premises, and especially to consider the application for a writ of mandamus to compel the Secretary of State, or the Council, to exhibit the election returns in time to have correct one made under the statute. It is understood that both Judges answered the Chief Justice advising the assemblage of the full Court.

The Counsel of Both Sides.

CALIFORNIA.

Going for the Bonanza Kings

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 21. Union Hall was crowded last evening to hear Colonel Dean, a prominent stock operator, tell the public the location of three new bonanzas which he claims exist in the Comstock, and to denounce the management of the mines controlled by J C Flood and his partners. Dennis Kearney, who had announced his intention of breaking up the meeting, was present with a large number of his followers from the sand lots, and before the meeting was called to order rose and made an attempt to organize the meeting. Confusion ensued and Kearney was arrested on charge of disturbing the meeting.

After the restoration of order, Dean in a long speech denounced J. C. Flood and his partners for their alleged unscrupulous course, and defended himself from the charge of sinister motives. He gave as the three bonanzas which he claims exist on the Comstock lode the Ophir, Hale and Norcross, on the 2200 level; and the third in the Yellow Jacket. He urged the formation of a combination to fight the bonanza kings in the markets and urged operators to enroll themselves for that purpose. Resolutions endorsing Dean's suggestions were unanimously adopted. Notices were given that a series of meetings would be held to effect reform in mining management.

The coinage will be of the smaller denominations only. The shipment yesterday was $4,000,000, or about eight tons, and two of the Adams Express Company's cars were needed for its transportation. The bullion is packed in small iron-bound bales.

NEW YORK CITY.

On the Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. Great excitement prevailed on the stock exchange this morning and at one time a serious panic seemed almost inevitable. The scene on the floor of the Exchange was most tumultuous and the rush to sell stocks so great that prices dropped 3 and 4 cents at a time before the first half hour of business had been over. The prevailing opinion of cool headed observers is that the stock market is turning. Leading speculators it is said covered their short sales yesterday and devoted to-day to filling their line of long stock.

Belfast ships are making some very quick passages across the Atlantic. The Lewis Walsh, Capt. White, arrived at St. John, on Sunday, twenty days from Liverpool. The Ivanhoe, Capt. Three men were up in the Police Court yesterday for cheating another man out of his horse, but were discharged for want of evidence. In the same enclosure there was a horse that came up near them, and the boy made a motion to scare him away when he kicked and struck the little fellow in the left temple. He never recovered consciousness after receiving the blow, but died in a few hours. A physician was summoned from Dexter, but nothing could be done for the unfortunate little fellow. He was an uncommonly bright boy, and his sudden and violent death is a great blow to his parents.

THE STEAMER PLANET. The work of rebuilding the steamer Planet, of Belfast, is progressing rapidly. The model has been materially altered. She will have a flush deck, the length will be increased twelve feet four inches and the depth four feet. The cabin will be below the main deck. The tonnage will be nearly doubled, as she formerly registered 29 92, and is now estimated at about 88. The boiler has been moved forward a few feet and the engine placed aft of the boiler, thus shortening the main shaft ten feet and doing away with three "boxes." A large water tank to supply the boiler has been placed in the bow, and two small ones for convenience in the cabin are to be put in the run. Persons competent to judge say that the boat will be greatly improved, and will be as fast, safe and convenient as any on the bay or river.—Ape.

SALE OF VALUABLE MILL PROPERTY. Samuel R Prentiss, Esq, has purchased the valuable mill property, on the Brewer shore, known as the Palmer & Johnson mill, of the Bangor Savings Bank. This property consists of the mill, wharves, piers, large boarding house, eight or ten tenements and what is called the Dyer Cove property, a portion of which is occupied by the Brewer Brush Company. The mill has only been built nine or ten years and contains a double gang, single gang, two mulleys, and a shingle and clapboard machine; has a twenty-four inch cylinder and seven boilers. Mr. Prentiss proposes to put the mill in thorough repair this winter, but it is not known whether he will operate it himself or not another season. The property was purchased at a remarkably fine trade, the price paid being ten thousand one hundred dollars, while the original cost was about eighty-five thousand dollars.

BUSINESS NOTES. A new steam saw mill directed the past season at Hodgdon Mills, has just been started by Berry & Hutchinson, the owners. The mill is eighty by thirty-five feet and runs a rotary saw for manufacturing dimension timber, and doing custom work, sawing at the rate of from eight to ten thousand feet of timber per day. They have also a shingle mill connected, by which eight to ten thousand shingles are made per day.——Sawin Bros., of Caribou, have started up their new steam grist mill and are grinding large quantities of grain.——The Hebron Pond Quarry met with quite a pullback a few days since. After getting their new derrick in place one of the guys gave way, letting it down, breaking it in two pieces. The energetic Superintendent, Mr. George F. Jackson, obtained one from this city in a few days at a cost of about $28. It is now in place ready for work.

The business boom at Lewiston Machine Company's Works is almost unprecedented. An immense amount of work is being turned out, and very heavy orders have just been taken. Among these orders are 68 expected looms for Arlington mills, and 188 fancy looms for Everett mills, Lawrence, 40 looms for Cabot mills, Brunswick; 150 shook looms for an Augusta, Ga., mill; 160 looms to go to Alabama and many orders for shafting to go to the South. The Works now have orders on hand for six months' work, for a full crew.

POSTAL BUSINESS. The returns of the postal business in the leading cities of the country give some remarkable results. The receipts at New York were as usual the largest, and were but $2,000 less than three million dollars. The receipts during the previous year in the three cities of Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston were, in the order named, $896,000, $870,000 and $847,000. The extreme difference between the three was under $50,000. This year Chicago steps ahead of Philadelphia, with receipts of $1,060,000, Philadelphia follows with $1,058,000, and Boston is again fourth on the list with $1,020 000. The increase at Chicago was 11½ per cent., at Boston 8½ per cent, at Philadelphia 6 per cent. It is mentioned that the receipts in Chicago exceed those of the five States of West Virginia, Georgia, Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi combined. The fiscal year closed before the improvement in business, yet there is a nearly uniform increase of about ten per cent. at all the cities except New York and Philadelphia. The business of the current year bids fair to show a much more rapid rate of growth.

AN OLD LOAN. The Belfast Journal says Gen. Samuel Brannan, of San Francisco, recently a guest of Col. Chenery, in this city, is now in New York trying, through the Mexican Minister, to get possession of $1,500,000 worth of land in Sonora, Mexico, in satisfaction of an old loan. When Mexico was in jeopardy, by reason of the French invasion, Brannan, who was then "flush," gave to the republic material aid, and forwarded to its agents stores and ammunition from San Francisco. This timely aid dic. much toward the final dethronement of Maximilian. The Mexican Government gave him at the time a voucher for so much land for aid rendered. It is said that the land designated embraces a portion of the rich mines recently discovered, and to this circumstance is attributed the delay in giving Mr. Brannan his patent at once. Mr. Brannan writes that everything is progressing favorably. Should it result as anticipated, he will return to California and place himself at the head of an organization long since formed, and proceed with it to occupy the rich lands in Sonora.

IDEAL PINAFORE COMPANY. The Boston Traveller says: "'H. M. S. Pinafore' began a new run at the Boston Theatre last evening, and, to judge from the more than ever excellent performance, and the character, size and temper of the audience, it will be some time before Messrs. Tompkins and Hill find it worth their while to withdraw it from the stage. The chorus and orchestra do even better than last season, and we all remember how well they did then. Miss Adelaide Phillips' 'Buttercup' makes one easily forget all other bumboat women that have appeared here before. It is a really wonderful piece of humor from beginning to end. Mr. Fessenden's 'Ralph Rackstraw' is capital, and he seems to have finer conception of the part than most of his predecessors. Mr. Kaemerlee sang the 'Boatswain's' music with great vigor and effect. Miss Beebee, Mr. Whitney and Mr. Burnham were their delightfulness selves, and the familiar operetta seemed as young and fresh as when Mr. Lothian first raised his baton over the good ship's crew at the Boston Museum."

The Observer says that E. T. Monroe, of Foxcroft, was offered $1800 by New York parties for two of his trotters. The offer was refused.

NEW ARMORY FOR THE JAMESON GUARDS. The City Government have taken a lease of Acadian Hall for the term of five years, as an armory for the Jameson Guards. Some repairs and alterations will be made in the hall, to fit it for the purpose designed, and it will then be taken possession of by the Jamesons and formally opened by a grand military ball January 1st.

A fair sized audience assembled in City Hall last evening to attend the entertainment given by the ladies of the Crusade. The songs were well rendered, the select readings good and the dialogue entitled "Hiring Help," was well received and elicited much applause. The entertainment merited a much larger audience, which would have undoubtedly been present had it not been for the other attractions at the same time.

GOOD FARMING COUNTRY. Roscoe Leavitt, of this city, has just returned from the Aroostook county where he has purchased a farm of one hundred acres. It is in the vicinity of Caribou and Fort Fairfield, and also near the farm of Frank Clark, another Belfast boy. Mr. Leavitt says that Clark, the past season, has raised one thousand bushels of potatoes, eight barrels of flour, besides other farm produce. He has built a barn and another year will erect a dwelling house. Mr. Leavitt will remain in Belfast this winter.—Belfast Journal.

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT OF MAINE. James M. Torrey, formerly of Belfast, died at San Francisco, Cal, Nov. 3d, aged 68 years and 9 months. Mr. Torrey was in poor health for about thirty years, and his death was the end of much suffering. He was landlord of the Phoenix House, in Belfast, from 1845 to 1848, but since about 1853 he resided in California during that time he has visited Belfast twice. He leaves a daughter in this city, Mrs. C. O. Strickland, a son and two brothers in California and a sister in Belfast, Mrs. F. N. Lanbaster. Mr. Torrey was a worthy man.

CLOSE OF AN EVENTFUL LIFE. Col. John S. Thrasher, a native of Portland, and a well known journalist, died in Galveston, Texas, Monday. When a young man he went to Cuba, where he engaged in the shipping business but becoming involved in the Lopez insurrection, was arrested and taken to Spain. He finally got clear and came to New York, where soon after he was concerned with an association of Cuban patriots, and was engaged in editing a Spanish newspaper. On the failure of the enterprise he went to Texas, where he has since resided. Last summer he paid a visit to Portland.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT BELFAST. The Chubbuck revival meetings which were held under the auspices of the Methodist church in Belfast, during the past six weeks, were finally closed last Sunday evening. Quarterly meeting services were held by Presiding Elder Wardwell, Sunday forenoon and in the evening the house was filled and many were unable to get in. Rev. Mr. Garrish stated as a result of the meetings that some sixty persons had been converted and had joined the church classes, and that two classes had been increased to four. Mr. Chubbuck, after going through his usual singing exercises preached, a short farewell discourse. He has excited quite a religious interest.

AN ADDITION TO THE LIBRARY AT THE STATE PRISON. Through the instrumentality of Hon. Joshua Nye, of Augusta, a truly philanthropic gentleman, a large lot of books were sent this week to the State Prison to be added to their library, for reading by the inmates of the institution. In this collection there are nearly one hundred bound books—a lot of papers and magazines, and Prof Starr, teacher at the prison, informs us that it is the best assortment of books that he has ever received since he has been on duty as instructor. In the same box there was received a tablet, on which was inscribed in beautiful gilt letters the following Scriptural texts, the work of Deacon Stephen Sewell, of Winthrop, now in the 80th year of his age, which he wishes placed in the prison chapel for the benefit of the convicts "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life." "Besides me there is no Savior" "Look unto me and be saved." "Him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out."—Rockland Gazette.

A MEAN PIECE OF WORK. The Dexter Gazette says: "The sail-boat 'Whisper,' belonging to Dexter & Son, of Foxcroft, and owned by several gentlemen in this town, was found one morning not long since to have been capsized and sunk in a gale of the night preceding. Circumstances indicated that the boat had been tampered with by some mean specimen of humanity—the same probably who cut the cable of this same craft and let it upon the rocks some months previous. The boat has since been raised and taken out of the water. The owners declare that it shall never go upon the waters of Dexter pond again. We understand that it is their intention to put it into Newport pond next season. If it has come to such a pass that a little boat cannot remain at its anchorage in the little pond, here in this little town, without being cut loose, or scuttled and sunk by some low-lived sneak or sneaks, then the town had better employ a special officer to remain constantly on duty at the bridge, shotgun in hand, ready for business."

'Chimes of Corneville"

The Boston English Opera Company's presentation of the "Chimes of Corneville" more familiarly known as "the Chimes of Normandy," last evening drew a small but appreciative audience before whom it was, as a whole, very well given. There was quite a long wait before the first rise of the curtain and between the acts, but the audience was patient. It is not necessary to go into details concerning the opera for though presented here for the first time, it was not new to many of the audience, but all enjoyed it and were repaid for braving the cold to hear it. The principal singers, Messrs. Brand, Bartlett, Gilbert, Daniels and Davis; Mrs. Carter, Miss Gunther, Upham, and Bickford sang well and acted with spirit, it being evident that a small house could not chill them entirely.

The chorus is as good as is usually connected with opera companies which visit us and deserves mention for some very well sung choruses. The orchestra was a good one and rendered the rippling music with taste, save in one instance when it rather outweighed the voices.

The solos by Mrs. Carter and Miss Gunther were warmly received and each responded to emphatic encores. Mr. Bartlett received the only floral tribute and responded finely to an encore. Mr. Brand sang his solos well although he was suffering from quite a severe cold, and earned the encore given him. The scenery was very nice and the costumes of the leading characters very handsome.

The opera will be repeated this evening, on which occasion the company will probably be greeted with a large audience. The tickets will be for sale at Bugbee & Co's to-day; general admission thirty-five cents, reserved seats fifty cents.

The river was frozen over above the dam this morning.

THANKSGIVING NIGHT.

"Pinafore" and "Trial By Jury"

By referring to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Boston English Opera Company, on their return from the Provinces, will appear once more in Norombega Hall on next Thursday (Thanksgiving) night, 27th inst. On this occasion they will present the ever welcome "H. M. S. Pinafore" and the rollicking operetta, "Trial by Jury." The rendition of 'Pinafore" by this Company is so well known in Bangor that it would be needless to particularize. It is, however, an acknowledged fact, by both press and public, that they have few equals in their representation of the popular opera. They both act and sing with spirit and apparently enjoy the performance as much as the audience.

Thanksgiving being a holiday, it has been decided by the management, in order to give all an opportunity to enjoy themselves on this festive night, to adopt a low scale of prices, adapted even to those who are not troubled with a superfluity of "stamps." General admission will be 25 cents. Reserved seats, according to location, 35 and 50 cents. The sale of tickets will open at D. Bugbee & Co.'s on Tuesday morning next.

CONSUMPTIVES, READ AND REFLECT.

It is believed by high medical authorities in Germany that a really effective curative agent against consumption in all its forms has been found. It consists in the inhalation of certain vapors, the nature of which are not now explained but the result of which upon a number of patients at the hospital in Innsbruck is said by the physician in charge to have far exceeded all expectations. It will certainly be a matter of sincere congratulation if some effective means has indeed been discovered for combating the most malicious and deadly disease which is known to afflict the human race.

Dr. Josiah Briggs discovered a Medicated Vapor which has and will or a guaranty cure consumption if directions and use specified are complied with. Consultation and trial of remedies free, at the Bangor House. Local further notice Dr Josiah Briggs Medicated Vapor and other specifics are delightful to use and beneficial in effect, it costs nothing to try these great safe lung preparations. Come one, come all, and try the great specifics.

HAMPDEN, Me, Nov. 17, 1875.

Dear Sir—It is with a feeling of pleasure that I address you in relation to your Medicated Oxygenated Vapor which I have been using about six weeks, and I unhesitatingly say that it is the only remedy which has afforded me any relief although I had tried many others. I have been troubled with catarrh about twelve years, which has become chronic—a good deal of discharge from my nostrils, and drops of matter into my throat, particularly at night. My sense of smell, taste and hearing were affected, more or less buzzing and roaring in my left ear, which was very perplexing. My breath was exceedingly offensive. All these troubles are much alleviated by the use of Oxygenated Vapor and other remedies which you furnished me. I am perfectly delighted with your treatment and the relief experienced. I write this unsolicited to promise. You requested me to let you know the effect of your remedies. I can only add if the result is as satisfactory as the commencement, I shall be a happy woman. Thanking you for your kindness and the relief afforded by your Medicated Oxygenated Vapor, I am yours, most respectfully, MRS E A. SADLER.

The following from Mr. Ralph Cheney, of Cheney Bros., South Manchester, and founder of the silk works at that place, is convincing evidence.

I have experienced the pleasure of having cotter removed in a painless and skilful manner by Dr. Briggs, and can truly say it is a luxury to have these torments removed by an experienced operator. I can with pleasure recommend others to seek relief at his hands. RALPH CHENEY.

"YOU DON'T KNOW THEIR VALUE."

They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had the Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is what I say, you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough."—B, Rochester, N. Y.

A GREAT INDUSTRY.

Messrs. J & P. Coats are the largest thread manufacturers in the world, employing at their various mills nearly five thousand operatives, and their annual sales are over one hundred and twenty million (120 000,000) spools. This world renowned spool cotton has only been sold in Bangor for a short time, yet the demand for it has been so great that several prominent retail dealers now keep it exclusively. Messrs Wheelwright, Clark & Co. are the Wholesale Agents in Bangor, and at their new store they are displaying to wholesale buyers, an elegant show case with a pyramid composed entirely of J. & P. Coats' spool cotton; and by an ingenious method of winding this pyramid revolves, showing spool after spool of colored thread unsurpassed in brilliancy and finish.

Messrs. Coats are soon to erect spool Factories in this State, which will give an impetus to business here

NEVER RETURN.

It is said that one out of every four real estate lookers who go to Denver, Col, to recover health never return to the East or South except as a corpse. The undertakers, next to the hotel keepers, have the most profitable business. This excessive mortality may be prevented and patients served and cured under the care of friends and loved ones at home, if they will but use Hop Bitters in time. This we know. See other column.
